

Tre Terre Etna Rosso

Wiegner Winery

In 2002 after years of making wine in Tuscany, Peter Wiegner and his wife Laura Puccetti bought 6 hectares of vineyards on Mount Etna, 750 meters above sea level, near the world heritage town of Passopisciaro.

Today, with their enologist son Marco, they organically farm mostly Nerello Mascalese, Capuccio and Carricante.

Nerello Mascalese

Aging

Barrels and tonneau with 6 months minimum bottle aging

Description

Nerello Mascalese grown at 750 asl, spontaneously fermented with indigenous yeasts. The palate is sapid and fresh, with soft fruit and the minerality of Etna's fertile soil.
